

Recorder Music Workshop

with Eric Haas

Colorful Language: Chromatic Madrigals, Chansons, Dances & Fantasias from the 16th & 17th centuries--- including the music of Coprario, Frescobaldi, Gesualdo, Marenzio, Purcell, Tomkins and others

Sponsored by the Hudson-Mohawk chapter of The American Recorder Society

Eric Haas studied recorder with John Tyson and baroque flute with Sandra Miller. He has taught at New England Conservatory, Tufts University and Wheaton College, as well as numerous early music workshops, including Pinewoods, Amherst Early Music Festival, the Long Island Recorder Festival and the Mideast Workshop.

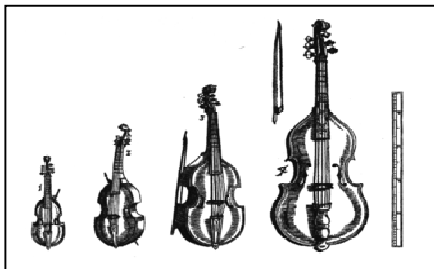

Mr. Haas performs on both recorder and early flutes with Pentimento (with lutenist Olav Chris Henriksen) and the Renaissance flute consort Travessada. He served for many years as Music Director of the Boston Recorder Society and manages retail operations for the von Huene Workshop, Inc.
